Charlotte's 'Young Life' Profile

Welcome to Charlotte's profile. It is written with the intent of giving concerned parties in general, an idea of Charlotte's character, talents, needs and wants. This knowledge will help point Charlotte in the right direction. This profile requires an accurate birth time. If you do not know the exact time of birth some of the information may not be completely relevant although the overall view will still be valid.

This profile is divided into a number of sections - detailed below - to make it easier to read and understand.

When reading this you will find both the positive and negative qualities of Charlotte defined. Most people will be happy to learn about the positive ones, while others may get upset over the negative ones. Contradictions will always appear in a person. They are what give us our uniqueness. We have tried to balance all qualities as much as possible so you get a good overview. Some children have wonderful charts while others have difficult charts and this will manifest in their personality.

The 'profile' as outlined here is not set in concrete and can be changed with your help. If the profile is positive you simply support and direct Charlotte. Where the profile indicates difficulties for Charlotte, guidance, direction and boundaries will be important.

Suitable for any young person from about sixteen months old and up. That is when she will start manifesting the qualities described. If you are having this profile prepared for a newly born child you will have to wait some time before it begins to make sense and be of value.

The 'Aspects' or individual characteristics are given a Star Rating from one to five to show their relative importance in the Profile. To the right of each pair of 'aspect' symbols is a group of five stars ★☆☆☆☆, the more dark stars there are the more important the connection. The keys for the planets and the other symbols and terms used are given at the back of the report.

Section A - laying down the foundations

1.Essential character - this profiles the general trends and outstanding characteristics of Charlotte 's nature, and also makes some comment on the quality of the relationship with the father. However this is not easily defined using Astrology so the section entitled 'Emotional and feeling nature' must be considered carefully together with this opening section.

* Between the first two sections, which deal essentially with father and mother there is a short section on 'The dominant parent'. We do not try to make a definitive judgement here but tradition states that the father is externally dominant and the mother is emotionally, or internally, dominant. Make your own judgement as to which parent fits the bill best.

2.Emotional and feeling nature - this shows how the more passive and sensitive side of Charlotte's nature is likely to develop and also comments on the nature of the relationship with her mother.

3.At this point we look more directly at the relationship between Charlotte and her mother.

4.Personality - this is a description of Charlotte's physical nature; and also her general approach to the world; the way she sees it; and the way she likes to be seen. For instance, does she wear rose-coloured glasses or does she view the world from behind dark glasses?

Section B - the process of development - from toddler to teenager

1.Assertiveness - this describes how Charlotte makes her presence felt and if she is essentially active or passive. Does she like to push her way to the front, or stay determinedly in the background?

2.Friendship and social attitudes - this looks at how Charlotte will get on with others. For instance, will she be a bit of a loner, have hundreds of friends, or just a few who are useful, and so on.

3.The power of the mind - this describes the approach Charlotte is likely to take towards the intellectual and academic side of her life and how she will respond to the rigours of education.

4.Money - this looks at how Charlotte will handle the money in her pocket or purse. Spendthrift or miser? Such traits establish themselves early and tend to remain with us all our lives.

Section C - preparing for independence

1.Higher education and establishing values - this section describes how Charlotte, approaching complete independence, lays down the belief and educational framework that will sustain her through her adult life.

2.Approach to daily working life - this looks at how Charlotte is likely to fare in the harsh world of work. What drive, if any, she has to succeed and how she will deal with the inevitable day-to-day necessities of work.

3.Career and ambitions - this final section examines how Charlotte might approach the business of how to make her mark on life, and what areas might be the most productive for her as she grows steadily older.

Section A - laying down the foundations

Essential character

The Sun signifies our inner sense of identity, and our will. It is the single most important planet in our birth chart and generally describes what we are seeking to become through the journey of life, or perhaps our 'destiny'.

Sun in Pisces

Like a chameleon that changes appearance to match its surroundings, Charlotte's personality melts and reforms according to her environment. She is very sensitive and impressionistic, and will take on the characteristics of other people quite unconsciously, like a sponge absorbs water.

Unselfish, she is an extremely 'giving' person, even to the point of self-sacrifice. She will instinctively put the needs of others before her own, and nothing will be too much trouble for her. Unfortunately, however, there is also the possibility that her humility may lead to a lack of self-respect or self-worth, and she may run the risk of becoming a bit of a doormat unless she learns to put herself first once in a while.

Charlotte will be an extremely emotional child who will grow into an adult of rare compassion and empathy. So empathetic, in fact, that she may have difficulty in differentiating between personal experience and that of others.

Her empathy is further heightened by her rich and powerful imagination that enables her to create a world far removed from the realities of mundane life. If she is not to spend all her time in self-indulgent day dreaming, this gift could be, and should be channelled into art of some kind.

Charlotte's Sun sign, Pisces, is ruled by Neptune, the planet of idealism, and Charlotte will always see the good and the best in everything and everyone.

Naturally, this will be extended to those whom she loves. She will see the world and her relationships through very rose-tinted spectacles indeed, and will place her loved one on an extremely tall pedestal. There will be nothing she would not do for her beloved, the recipient of Charlotte's boundless love, adoration, indulgence and worship.

But the planet of idealism is also the planet of confusion. Charlotte - who is likely to lack discernment - may be easily deluded into thinking she has found her ideal, and reality will come as a dreadful disappointment when the beloved turns out to have feet of clay; to be simply 'human' after all.

Because of Neptune's nature - its desire to heighten and refine and make ideal - Charlotte will have a highly developed and totally unrealistic sense of perfection, of fantasy. Her escapist tendencies are strong.

Whilst Neptune may tempt her to escape into the muddy oblivion of drink or drugs later in life, her stronger instincts are to swim into the clear waters of artistic creativity. With her fluid impressionability and unlimited imagination, she may be a gifted actor, writer or musician, for she has the ability to recreate her dream world.

And, with her heightened sensitivity, she may also be psychic, mediumistic or otherwise spiritually evolved.

Charlotte may need long periods of retreat, of solitude, in order to 'find' herself from time to time. She may be unable to cope with the hurly-burly of life, and so peace and quiet will do much to restore her inner serenity. Her dreams are important to her, and they form an integral part of her nature. 'I have spread my dreams under your feet', wrote the poet Yeats. 'Tread softly because you tread on my dreams'.

Charlotte's wilfulness

Sun in 4th House

Charlotte has a strong sense of heritage and it is from this that she derives a sense of identity. Family 'roots' will be important to her, and she is likely to be particularly close to her grandparents.

When older, it will be vital for her to establish a home of her own - a secure base she can take pride in, and where she can 'rule the roost'. She may not feel totally settled and confident about expressing her identity until the second half of life. For Charlotte, life really does begin at 4!

Sun Conjunct Jupiter

Charlotte is an optimistic and confident child with a great sense of fun. She has a great belief in herself and trusts life, therefore she is often very lucky. Providence smiles upon her. At her worst Charlotte is excessive in her conduct being prone to exaggeration and boastfulness. Charlotte needs to know to work within her limits, rather than trying to attempt more than she can accomplish. This quality could make her unreliable.

Sun Square Saturn

To Charlotte life seems a bit of a grim affair, she doesn't seem to be able to have fun. She has a natural inclination to see the negative and take things rather seriously. She will be very hard on herself and those who are close to her, expecting high standards. Charlotte will often feel as though she has too much responsibility and may be prone to bouts of slight depression.

She needs to learn how to inject fun into her life and not take it all so seriously. She'll also probably be a bit of a loner and not have a very strong social life. There is no great harm in this but it is possible that this isolation only reinforces a sense of rejection so any encouragement and warmth shown her will go a long way.

Sun Sextile Neptune

Charlotte is idealistic and highly imaginative in her creativity and self-expression. She is a sensitive, artistic child who needs room to follow her dreams and vision. She is naturally compassionate and caring, highly tuned into other people and their slightest emotional mood and could even have psychic abilities. Don't be surprised if she has imaginary friends in the early years and don't be surprised if she has a tendency to wander off. She'll always turn up perfectly fine and wondering what all the fuss is about.

Sun Trine Pluto

From very early on Charlotte feels deeply accepted and sure of herself. She knows how to get what she wants out of life through controlling and directing her will. Charlotte is passionate and feels life intensely but she is also happy to share these feelings with others. She will prove to be powerful and dominant and able to exert a strong influence over others and her environment. She has a unique talent for finding something of value in what others disregard.

The Dominant Parent

In this section we are using traditional astrological rules for defining Charlotte's relationship with her father. However this may well be more applicable to Charlotte's Mother. Generally one or other of the parents has the strongest influence in developing Charlotte's approach to the outside world. Traditionally this has been the father's role but it could perfectly well apply to her Mother, hence the use of the phrase 'The Dominant Parent'.

Leo in 10th House

Charlotte will have a very positive attitude towards her father in general and see him as a real hero. As Charlotte grows older there may be a bit of conflict as she debates whether she should worship her father, or be worshipped. For better or for worse, paternal influence is very strong.

Emotional and feeling nature

In this section we shall examine how Charlotte relates on an emotional level. This is traditionally associated with the maternal relationship but we have not made such an obvious assumption and the following section should not be read as being primarily concerned with the relationship between mother and child.

Astrologically, the Moon describes our responses, sensitivity, our feeling nature, and the unconscious side of our personality. It shows our emotions and these, of course, will be filtered, or coloured, by the sign in which the Moon falls. Most importantly, the Moon shows our needs.

It shows how we will react on an instinctive level.

Moon in Leo

Charlotte needs the spotlight, and an audience.

A bit of a 'show-off' as a child and that's an understatement! Charlotte will seek attention and admiration. She's open in her affections, generous, warm and loving, and just a tiny bit stubborn. She'll have a strong need to love and to be loved in return.

Her main fault is a tendency to become petulant and childish, even when he grows up! if she is ignored, or thwarted in any way. She is naturally creative, with instinctive leadership qualities, and the ability to make people feel 'special'.

Charlotte will be a delightful child - although she'll expect to be treated like royalty!

The houses of the chart represent different compartments of life, different areas of experience, and each house will 'colour' the Moon in a slightly different way.

Moon in 9th House

She needs to be able to relate emotionally to a highly principled role model in her life, her mother would be the ideal candidate, and a strongly moral family framework will be essential to her sense of security. Emotionally restless, she may find commitment difficult.

Throughout her life, she may feel that 'the grass is greener on the other side of the fence', and spend many years looking for a philosophy that will satisfy her longings, or spiritual enlightenment of some kind. As she grows up she may decide that a foreign culture gives her the kind of emotional nourishment she needs and she may make her home and raise a family abroad.

Charlotte's emotions and feelings

Moon Square Pluto

For Charlotte life, especially as regards her mother is based on the idea that if she doesn't push the button first the other person will, and this power complex derives from her relationship with her mother, which she perceives as being about control and manipulation.

She may well have things completely out of proportion but that is her prerogative. She will veer from intense charm, to tantrum, to cold, hard eyed sulk, all in order to get her own way. There is an underlying fear behind all this that can be helped by a lot of reassurance.

Charlotte's relationship with her Mother

It is important to understand that the relationship between mother and child is always 'symbiotic'. In other words the way Charlotte's Mother behaves towards her child and the way Charlotte perceives her mother is so inextricably linked that it is hard to separate the one from the other. Does Charlotte's mother react to Charlotte or does Charlotte react to her mother? This is perhaps the original chicken and egg question, and in this section we shall try to address this issue.

Moon in Leo

Charlotte is a loving and joyous child. Both she and her mother have a lot of fun together and she probably considers her to be an utterly delightful child. Charlotte is a warm and open child who loves to show off - and be shown off - and likes nothing more than to be told how wonderful she is.

The more she is praised, the greater a delight she is. She looks up to her parents and is particularly proud of her mother, just as she is of her. Charlotte will have a special place in her mother's heart and she will also enjoy all her dramatic way of behaving.

Moon in 9th House

The relationship between Charlotte and her mother should have a strong element of fun but may have a distant aspect to it in the sense that Charlotte looks to her mother to teach her about the world while her mother is probably perfectly happy to play the role. The consequence of this and Charlotte's natural curiosity is that together they inadvertently conspire towards an early flying from the nest.

Personality

This section looks at how Charlotte views the world and likes to be viewed by others. No matter what Charlotte's essential nature may be all of us have a 'face' that we put on for public consumption and this section describes that 'face'.

AS in

Charlotte's ascendant/rising sign is Libra

Venus is the chart ruler of those born with Libra rising, and because of Venus's beneficial nature, Charlotte will probably be fortunate enough to sail through adolescence without suffering the social agony of acne! Moreover, she may also be blessed with Venus's gift of dimples!

Charlotte will be a likeable and agreeable child. She will make many friends and her popularity at school will probably be high. She will be eager to earn the good opinion of her teachers, and is likely to be a well-behaved and fairly conformist pupil. Creative, and with an eye for beauty, she should do well in Art classes, and enjoy the thrust and parry of the Debating Society.

She may display a somewhat indolent side to her nature which, when she is older, will consolidate into an easy, unhurried manner.

One of the strongest features of a Libra ascendant, it would be unreasonable to consider it a 'fault', is the trait of 'running with the hare and hunting with the hounds'.

Because of her conciliatory nature, Charlotte is likely to consider that 'Discretion should be the better part of valor'. For her, upholding her principles may be less important than retaining the regard and goodwill of those she's involved with. Because she cannot cope with what she perceives as the ugliness of confrontation, she may settle for second best in the cause of establishing peace and harmony. 'Anything for a quiet life' will be a favourite motto. 'Don't rock the boat' will be another.

This characteristic, however, could be positively made use of in Charlotte's career if she were involved in the fields of, say, diplomacy, mediation, advising or public relations.

'Charm' is a word that will always be associated with Charlotte. Her pleasant and easy-going manner, her happy facility for making friends and her extreme sociability, will all combine to make her universally liked.

Pluto in 1st House

No matter how Charlotte likes to portray herself there is an incredibly strong streak of determination hidden not far beneath the surface.

As a child she will be prove difficult to control having a will of iron that is a little more than mere stubbornness. This determination will prove very useful in later life and no doubt she will be very successful but it might be a little too much for a child to handle at times. Charlotte will need to be encouraged to develop a stronger sense of empathy and not regard everyone else around her as simply vassals.

Essentially Charlotte is driven in many ways by irrational fear that is then over-compensated for. So as a child she will fear maternal rejection and become demanding and manipulative. As she grows older she will acquire money to avoid the fear of poverty, and so on. Once this is understood it is possible to alleviate the fear with a judicious mix of defined boundaries and a bucket-full of love and reassurance.

Section B

Toddler to teenager the process of development

Assertion

In this section we will be looking at the way in which Charlotte finds her way through the rough and tumble of childhood and later life, without being pushed around by others. The methods and approaches she uses to make sure her own needs are met and how she deals with the needs of others when they are at odds with her own.

Mars in 2nd House

Charlotte is not too assertive generally but once she has attached herself to somebody she can become possessive. She may have difficulty in expressing anger until it builds up and then explodes. It would be helpful for her to learn it is fine to express her anger so long as she doesn't hurt anybody doing it!

Friends and social groups

In this section we shall be looking at what sort of friends Charlotte needs and what she is likely to bring to friendships herself. We shall also look at the way in which she is likely to interact with social groups or whether, for example, she would prefer to be on her own.

Virgo in 11th House

Charlotte will probably choose her friends from within the work place, as she will most likely be too busy for much of a social life. Her innate need for perfection in all things could make her over critical, which in turn makes it difficult for her to make friends easily.

More on Charlotte's friends and social groups

Uranus in 2nd House

Charlotte will have an exciting social life, and being a member of a group or club will give her a sense of security and stability. She may pursue money with great energy, largely because she will enjoy the freedom it brings. In her adult years, she will always be successful at being able to extricate herself from financial scrapes in the most ingenious of ways.

The power of the mind

In this section we indicate Charlotte's communication and learning skills, her needs at school and requirements for her further education. Of particular interest to her parents will be how to talk and connect with her.

Sagittarius in 3rd House

No matter how short the time Charlotte may spend in the school system, she is one of life's natural students and will never stop learning. She has a curious mind, and many far-ranging interests. Dull facts and figures may bore her, but once her vivid imagination is fired, she will throw herself enthusiastically into expanding her store of knowledge. In turn, she loves to share her knowledge, and would make an excellent and inspirational teacher. She is a skilled storyteller and image-weaver.

Neptune in 3rd House

This child may hide her ideas and thoughts from those around her, making it difficult for others to get to know what she is really thinking. Her mind can be swamped by feelings and emotions as there is no hard logic in her thinking, she is often confused by her muddled thoughts and this can make her feel vulnerable and unhappy.

But she is more than compensated by a rich and creative imagination that enables her to live on a different mental plane from the rest of us.

Pretence is as good as reality to her. She may invent fantasy situations and scenarios, and her world is likely to be peopled with imaginary friends who have sprung from her fertile mind. And woe betide anyone who fails to pay proper respect to the invisible chum or who forgets to set a place for the invented child when laying the table for tea! Such imaginary friends, however, often fade, mercifully for the parents! into the background once school is started with its 'flesh and blood' attractions.

Academically, Charlotte is likely to be a daydreamer, who is frequently chastised for gazing out of the window when she should be attending to her studies. In spite of this, she'll still manage to learn by a form of 'intellectual osmosis' - picking up vibrations and translating them into knowledge. Such a system though, may well not be appreciated by Charlotte's teachers, who may consider her irritatingly vague and lacking in concentration.

Although her school reports may disapprove of her for not paying attention in many of her lessons, her English teacher is likely to find her highly intelligent and extremely responsive. Books, words, poetry and art will inspire her, and help her make the most of her not inconsiderable talents. She could display real promise in drama classes, for instance, and she may have a flair for creative writing.

More about Charlotte's mental approaches

Mercury in Pisces

Charlotte will find it easier to communicate ideas and concepts than hard facts and figures. Because of this, it would be easy to dismiss her as a 'woolly thinker', but it would be doing her a great disservice to do so.

You see, her mind is whirling in a confusing maelstrom of emotions, feelings, subliminal impressions and intuitive perceptions. Sensitive and empathetic, she operates by 'tuning in' unconsciously to the intellectual vibrations given off by others and responding accordingly. Logic plays little or no part in her thought processes.

At school she could find the discipline and routine hard to take, and may do poorly in mathematics and science lessons. Dull, dry subjects that are unimaginatively taught will leave her baffled and unhappy. Where she will shine, however, will be in the arts; in music, drama and most particularly in poetry, literature and languages.

Charlotte's imagination is unsurpassed. It is rich, deep, an inexhaustible well, and is likely to be her best academic asset. Encourage her in her reading, and do not scold her for her constant daydreaming or her often-solitary playacting. Although such activities may be her escape route from the harsh realities of life, she is at the same time nurturing and developing her mind.

Mercury in 5th House

Charlotte's creativity may be expressed through the medium of the spoken and written word, and so she could have a flair for writing. Drama may be a particular interest - particularly so because it provides Charlotte with the spotlight she enjoys performing under! She is bright and lively, with a fertile, active brain, and she will respond well to others whose wit and mental agility match her own.

Her preferred way of relaxing, is likely to be in playing games of skill and strategy, such as chess.

Charlotte's communication skills are modified in the following way

Mercury Conjunct Venus

Blessed with a melodious voice, this child could well develop talent as a singer or musician. A love of language is indicated here, and Charlotte will be able to express her thoughts creatively. Her interests will lie primarily in the arts.

Mercury Square Mars

Prone to acting before thinking, Charlotte is an assertive - and often aggressive - communicator, always ready to leap into an argument with her contribution. Almost combative in her debating skills, she may use her incisive intellect and razor-sharp tongue to bully her opponents verbally.

She appreciates direct speech, for she does not have time to wade through convoluted talk or waffle. In her book, actions speak louder than words, and she is always the first to act on a good idea, generally one of her own!

Mercury Square Uranus

There is a very stubborn streak in Charlotte's nature. She may display an unwillingness or inability to compromise or to accommodate the viewpoints of others. Sometimes this obstinacy may lead her to 'cut off her nose to spite her face' or to persist in an untenable position for the sake of a principle.

In her desire to be outspoken and honest, she can be quite blunt in what she has to say. Tactful she's not!

Earning and spending money

In this section we shall look at how Charlotte is likely to develop in terms of her attitude towards the acquisition and expenditure of money.

Scorpio in 2nd House

Charlotte is very resourceful when it comes to making money. To her, it represents power, and so she will strive to make a great deal of it. She does nothing by half-measures, and so has the potential to amass a large amount of money during her working life.

Mars in 2nd House

The normal ways of earning money as an employee may be too slow for Charlotte's liking, and so she might prefer to be self-employed, or to start up a business of her own. As well as entrepreneurial skills she can boast executive action, assertiveness, desire for money and, above all, energy, so she is likely to be a force to be reckoned with! The process of money making excites and motivates her.

Saturn in 2nd House

This astrological placement confers a sensible fear of poverty and, because of this, Charlotte is likely to take a frugal and prudent approach to finances, and value the protective security of money in the bank.

She may have to sweat for her money. Material success is likely to come only as the result of a great deal of hard work, and later in life than Charlotte might wish it to be! But her patience, realism, stamina and level headed caution will combine well with ambition to ensure her eventual success.

Uranus in 2nd House

In the big, wide world there are bills to be paid and financial obligations to be met and there's no escaping them. And Charlotte's finances are likely to be subject to wild fluctuation at the best of times.

But she will develop a singular talent for improvising, and for spotting potentially beneficial openings. Her original and inventive approach to money making will invariably work to her advantage.

She will be very relaxed about borrowing from or lending cash to her friends, and is likely to display a very 'laid-back' attitude to money.

More information concerning Charlotte's attitude towards finances

Venus in Pisces

Charlotte is likely to be somewhat unrealistic when it comes to money. She will find it virtually impossible to stick to a budget or to exercise any real control over her cash flow. For instance, in her vague and dreamy way she may if self-employed set erratic fees - charging less for jobs she enjoys doing, and more for those she doesn't.

Tender hearted and idealistic, Charlotte may often be found contributing her cash to charitable causes, or to others less fortunate than herself. However, a considerable amount of money could also be wasted on escapist activities. Money, for Charlotte, is easily frittered away.

Venus in 5th House

Charlotte will certainly get serious enjoyment from the process of acquiring money and will no doubt display any wealth she does accumulate in a very grandiose and often dramatic fashion.

Section C - preparing for independence

Higher education and establishing values

In this section we shall examine how Charlotte is likely to find her place in society, as she grows older. What standards she will set for herself and what she values. This will probably not become clear until Charlotte has reached at least the puberty stage.

Gemini in 9th House

If she is lucky, higher education will show Charlotte how to make sense of the wealth of facts and information she has accumulated during her school years.

More about Charlotte's philosophy and further education

Jupiter in Pisces

With her natural sensitivity and intuition, it would be a waste of time, to say nothing of Charlotte's talents, to try to push her into rigid, formal higher education. She could display a marked artistic ability and further education for her must help this creative talent blossom. The negative side of this placement is that Charlotte may find it hard to focus on goals and to discipline her other talents required in the process of education.

Charlotte's education

Jupiter in 4th House

The values she learns as a child will be carried forward to the family she'll undoubtedly want to establish when she's an adult, and the secure base she enjoyed as a child will be reproduced in her own family home. So it may be Charlotte feels she doesn't have time for the luxury of further education but it is one method by which she will be able to enrich the family life that is so important to her.

This section is especially concerned with Charlotte's inner values

Jupiter Conjunct Sun

There's a strong risk-taking element in this child's nature but, with the luck that seems to accompany her every move, her risks generally pay off!

She is generous, inclined to extravagance and has more confidence than most people. Her buoyant optimism and positive outlook will ensure she is a popular and well-liked child.

All of which means that she has a strong internal faith in life and this quality will show through in everything she does.

Jupiter Trine Pluto

Charlotte uses her powerful intellect and penetrative insight to discover truths for the benefit of others. Her forceful personality gives her the power to sway the masses, and to direct her considerable willpower to good creative effect.

Charlotte has an extremely good insight into the workings of her own psyche too and sees clearly where changes can and should be made. Whether or not she musters the energy to effect such changes is another matter altogether.

Approach to daily working life

This section will look at how Charlotte may approach the thorny problem of working for a living. Naturally this will not begin to show until her teenage years, but as with everything else, forewarned is forearmed and there will always be ways to produce the most positive outcome!

Aries in 6th House

Charlotte will make a hard and energetic worker who enjoys the physical challenge of employment. She will throw herself into it with enthusiasm, and will love to take the initiative.

More about Charlotte's likely approach to working life

Mercury in Pisces

There is a strongly sensitive side to Charlotte, which may influence her choice of employment. She could be drawn to the arts, in which case photography and filmmaking would greatly fascinate her, or one of the healing professions. The work of an image-consultant could be another employment possibility.

Mercury in 5th House

Creative writing could be a possible outlet for Charlotte's energies when it comes to choosing a line of work. She would also be good at public relations, at working in the sports and entertainment industries, and she might do well as a teacher of infants and young children.

Career and ambitions

In this section we shall look at how Charlotte might approach the outside world in terms of possible careers and potential ambitions as she grows to maturity. Naturally these traits are unlikely to show until Charlotte is at least in her teens.

More about Charlotte's possible career approaches

♄ in ♐

Saturn in Sagittarius

Achieving success in her career will be strongly linked to Charlotte's moral principles, and it is to her father or to a male role model, that she will look for guidance when formulating her code of ethics. A too-rigid, or a lackadaisical, influence may lead to difficulties later in life.

Charlotte will take her professional responsibilities, as well as her philosophical and moral outlook, extremely seriously. And, almost by way of return for such strict adherence to her principles, she will expect to be seen as just, honest and noble, and a leader, or an authority of some kind. You may be surprised to learn that, ideally, she would like to be regarded as a wise and kindly benefactor of mankind! But she'd never admit it.

Since one of her fears is that others may not share her self-view, she may over-compensate by becoming dogmatic in her opinions, and trying to hold the monopoly on truth and wisdom. Imposing her views and principles in this way could lead to rampant self-righteousness ... and consequently to her being considered a bit of a pain in the neck!

Saturn in 2nd House

With her level headed and cautious approach, Charlotte could do extremely well in the financial world, to her, handling large amounts of money is the next best thing to owning it herself! or she may be drawn to a career in real estate. Whether it's money, property development, or working on the land, it's all a form of 'investment', and this is what will interest Charlotte most: getting a return of some kind.
